Blackboard IM Collaboration

Starting a Screen Sharing Session
Screen Sharing allows you to share a live view of a portion of the screen on your computer with other Blackboard IM users.

Once logged in to Blackboard IM, you will begin by opening the collaboration window, select the name of the user you wish to call, and right-click to enable the drop down menu.

Select Invite to Collaborate by clicking on the command or pressing keys Ctrl+ Alt+C (Command+ Option+ C on MAC OS X)
This will open the Collaboration Window.

- Whiteboard Button
- Screen Sharing Button
- Web Tour Button

Content Area

- What does it mean to “balance” a chemical equation?
- Example #1
- Example #2
- Tips to make balancing equations easier
- Samples to try
On the Collaboration Window, click the Screen Sharing button. The Screen Sharing window opens.

This resizable frame controls how much of your screen is displayed to other users; only the area contained within the box is shared.

You can move the frame around by dragging any of the dashed edges and resize it by grabbing one of the eight control points located at the corners and on each side of the box.

For further opportunities to learn about Blackboard IM, contact the Faculty Resource Center at 205.348.3532 or frc@ua.edu and visit the Faculty Resource Center at http://frc.ua.edu.

Last updated 4-May-15